NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

REGINA, December 23rd.

Lineham to-day presented the report of the immigration committee. Accompanying was the report of A. Lucas of Calgary who had been acting as immigration commissioner in Toronto for the past month. "The committee believed that the opening of this agency had been productive of good results and recommended that it be continued. It was also suggested that efforts be made to secure from the C. P. R. rates which would permit land prospectors to visit several parts of the Northwest at a single price. The committee further pointed out that in consequence of the recent action of the United States government in closing its ports against immigration from European countries the committee believes that the increased flow of immigration to the Dominion caused by this action will bring numbers of immigrants from the cholera infected districts of Europe, and it is of opinion that unless great care be exercised in maintaining a strict quarantine at all Dominion ports during the approaching immigration season, very great danger will arise from the introduction of cholera into the Northwest Territories.

Magrath's coal miners bill was read in committee. The point of the expense of appointing an inspector was discussed, Betts opposing. A motion to strike out the section providing for the salary of an inspector was carried in the committee and the bill passed through.

Davidson's amendments to the municipal ordinance were considered in committee. An amendment by Davidson to permit municipalities to pay for horses destroyed on account of glanders was carried. Also two amendments by Jelly to permit municipalities to guarantee the debentures of elevator companies and to raise the limit of credit allowed municipalities from 5 mills on the dollar of assessment to 8 mills on the dollar.

The game ordinance was read a third time. It provided that non-residents of the Territories who desire to shoot in the Territories, must pay a license fee of $5.

The ordinance providing public aid to hospitals passed a third reading.

Clinkskill moved, seconded by McKay, that the Dominion government be asked to grant scrip and medals to the Northwest mounted police.

Insinger moved that his resolutions of yesterday regarding protection from prairie fires be forwarded to the minister having charge of the mounted police force and to the commissioner of the force.

The question of adjournment over Christmas was discussed and a motion to adjourn until Tuesday next was carried in face of strong opposition. Several Saskatchewan members go home to-morrow morning to return after Christmas.

The estimates are set down for Tuesday next.

The congregation of All Saints' church, Edmonton, presented the Rev. C. Cunningham, on Christmas morning, with a purse of over hundred and twenty dollars. The collections on Christmas Day, by order of the Synod, also go to the Incumbent, so that altogether he reaped a bountiful harvest of money. Mr. Cunningham's gratitude for the people's kindness can better be imagined than expressed.

THE services in All Saints' Church, on Christmas Day, were largely attended both morning and evening. The church has never been more tastefully and extensively decorated. The windows, door, arch and beam were all wreathed in evergreen. The altar and desks were dressed in white, and over the altar were the words: "Peace on Earth." On either side were blue shields, and inscribed on them the Alpha and Omega in silver letters. On either side of the church were texts from Isaiah, prophetic of the Christ. And over the door part of the Angels' song "Goodwill towards men." Every string was in keeping with the joy and yet solemnity of the occasion. The musical part of the service certainly does the choir great credit. The Anthem in the evening, "The Nazareth," were very well rendered. The solo parts were taken by Mrs. St. Geo. Jellett and Mr. C. D. T. Becher.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, DECEMBER 29, 1892.

NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

REGINA, December 19th.

Davidson moved seconded by Jelly that the freight rates imposed by the C. P. R. on coal and wheat are a hindrance to the prosperity of the country, and that a reduction be asked. Carried without a division.

Lineham moved for papers regarding immigration.

Brett moved for papers regarding the World's exhibition.

Haultain moved, seconded by Tweed, that this house claims the right of the house through its committee to advise the lieutenant-governor in relation to all executive appointments made necessary by Territorial ordinance.

After some debate, Bayley and Brett opposing, the motion carried without division.

The assessment of railways bill, the bill exempting the Manitoba Northwestern railway, and the bill to incorporate the Roman Catholic Bishop of Saskatchewan were read a third time.

Bills respecting ferries, apprentices and minors, medicine and surgery, agricultural societies, the game ordinance, fire districts, statute labor and to amend the judicature ordinance, were read a second time.

Davidson's amendments to the municipal bill were considered in committee.

Jelly moved to allow municipalities to guarantee the bonds of elevator companies. This caused a hot debate and amendment stood over. House sits to-night.

REGINA, December 19th.

EVENING SESSION.

The school bill was considered in committee and some minor amendments made.

Haultain moved that the section of the Northwest Act, which provides for separate schools be adopted in place of the section in the ordinance, which endeavored to interpret that section of the Act. He believed the interpretation given in the ordinance to be wrong and believing to be wrong he could not support its insertion. At the same time he did not ask the house to accept the interpretation which he believed to be correct. The safest and fairest way to deal with the matter was to take the words of the Northwest Act and if the occasion arose depend upon the courts to interpret its meaning.

Prince and Clinkskill objected. The interpretation in the ordinance had stood good for years and there was no necessity of altering it now.

Mowat and Oliver supported Haultain's motion. The former said he had an interpretation differing from that in the ordinance to propose, but having heard Haultain's explanation he would not press it and would vote for the motion, which was carried by a large majority.

REGINA December 20th.

Dill introduced a bill respecting preferential assignments.

Brett introduced a bill to amend the ordinance respecting infectious and contagious diseases.

Magrath moved the second reading of a bill to provide for proper inspection of coal mines. The Dominion government had been memorialized on the subject and no action had been taken in the interests of the safety of the miners provision should be made at once.

Betts opposed, but the second reading carried.

Betts introduced an amendment to the exemptions ordinance to change the present exemption of all necessary tools of an artisan to an assessment not exceeding $200.

The bill to amend the ordinance respecting births, marriages and deaths passed through committee of the whole. Also to give Malcolm Mackenzie a certain status as a student-at-law. Also the bill respecting elections.

The amendments to the license ordinance were considered. The proposition to admit a tender of license against which no protest has been entered on authority of the chief license inspector without reference to the commissioner was carried against strong opposition. An amendment by knowing to require the signature of twelve instead of ten of the nearest householders to a license application was defeated. The bill is still in committee.

House sits again to-night.

REGINA, December 20th.

EVENING SESSION.

Mitchell's consolidation of the game ordinance was considered in committee. The beginning of fall shooting for ducks is changed from August 15th to September 1st. Indians may shoot but are not allowed to sell game.

The bill respecting the veterinary profession was considered in committee. Also the bills respecting schools and fire districts.

REGINA, December 21st.

On motion for the third reading of the bill respecting the veterinary profession, Oliver moved that the bill be read that day six months. The bill delegated the power of drawing and licensing veterinary surgeons to a body which in the present condition of the Territories could not be effectively organized.

Davidson said the bill was a copy of the Manitoba act and was necessary in the Territories.

Jelly, Betts and Brett favored amendments to the bill rather than throw it out.

Neff thought a provision for the registration of veterinary surgeons was all that was required at present.

Insinger seconded the motion to hoist the bill.

The vote was as follows: Yeas, Knowing, Insinger, Page, Haultain, Tweed, Neff, Oliver, Wilkins, Campbell—9. Nays, Betts, McKay, Boucher, Brett, Mowat, Dill, Davidson, Lineham, Campbell, Jelly—10.

Bills respecting public health and respecting preferential assignments were read a second time.

The bill to regulate public aid to hospitals was passed through committee. Also the private bill giving certain powers to the municipality of the town of Calgary. Also the bill amending the exemptions ordinance.

The bill respecting the rights of livery and boarding stable keepers was considered in committee. Also Magrath's bill for the regulation of coal mines, and progress reported.

NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

REGINA, December 22nd.

Haultain gave notice of a bill to incorporate the town of Macleod. Also that the estimates would be laid on the table to-morrow.

Insinger moved, seconded by Dill, that in the opinion of this assembly it is advisable that during the fall the police be more generally distributed throughout the Territories to assist in the prevention of prairie fires, which yearly devastate large tracts of land.

Mowat introduced a bill to prevent the spread of noxious weeds.

A message was received from the lieutenant-governor respecting school grants.

Haultain moved a resolution regarding school grants to be embodied in the school ordinance. The resolution raised the basis grant from a percentage on $360 to a percentage on $400, and reduced the grant paid in respect of pupils above standard XI from $25 to $20.

Mowat said that the system of grants now being amended had been in operation since the first of July last, and the returns for the first quarter of its operations had been received. This return showed that the total amount of grant received by 48 schools had been increased under the new system and that 138 had suffered a decrease. Amongst those receiving less aid were all the high schools, Lethbridge and Prince Albert had suffered in particular, the former to the amount of $350 and the latter to the amount of $210. At the same time he felt that the new system was an improvement over the old. Under that system improper salaries had been paid and the public funds had been trifled with. He thought the salary proposed to be paid for a minimum school was very fair. In Regina school they had the best primary teachers they could get, holding 2nd class certificates and to these teachers they paid $480 a year.

Haultain moved that Normal schools, night schools and teachers' institutes be excepted from the provisions regarding grants.

Clinkskill asked if children under five years of age attending Kindergarten schools would be counted in estimating the grants.

Haultain thought not. He would make provision to that effect in a sub-section.

Dill moved an amendment to sub-section (a) of the resolution that the amount be raised from $400 to $420. Thirty-five dollars a month was as small a salary as good work could be expected for.

Haultain pointed out that unless it was intended to greatly increase the amount of the vote for school purposes, it would be necessary to reduce one or both of the other grants to meet the proposed increase in the basis grant.

Dill, Page, Insinger, Oliver and others supported the amendment on the understanding that the grant to pupils above standard I. be reduced from $20 to $14.

The amendment was carried by a good majority.

Insinger proposed an amendment to the grant of $5 per pupil in average attendance. He would pay a grant if the attendance was over 60 per cent. of the pupils on the roll. It was not carried.

Dill moved that the grant in respect of pupils over standard I. be reduced to $15. This was lost.

Clinkskill called attention to the fact that some of those who had voted for the increased basis grant, on the understanding that the high class grant would be reduced, had violated the understanding.

Haultain moved that the committee rise and report progress to give the members time to become acquainted with the figures of the returns before proceeding with the discussion.

Tweed moved the second reading of the bill to provide aid for public aid to hospitals. A schedule of hospitals entitled to receive aid includes the Medicine Hat general hospital, the Galt hospital, Lethbridge, the Calgary general and Holy Cross hospitals, Calgary, and the St. Albert hospital. The bill provides that these hospitals shall receive aid to the amount of 10 cents a day for each patient admitted and 40 cents a day for each day during which a non-paying patient is kept. Any sum received from a patient is credited at $1 a day, and the claim of 10 cents a day is only for the number of days not covered by the payment made at the rate of $1 a day.

The bill passed through committee.

Betts' bill respecting public health was read a second time.

Having attained the reputation of making the best brick in the Territories I will make it a point to continue to lead in that line; while thanking the building community of Edmonton and vicinity for their kind patronage in the past would invite their inspection of my work and prices in the future. Do not be deluded by parties who claim to make a pressed brick with a sand stock machine, or produce them in May in this country; it cannot be done. Pressed brick sell in the cities of Canada and the Eastern States for $20.00 and upward per thousand and can't be sold or made here for any $10.00. I set up no claim to such liberality, but can produce a good brick in July for $8.00; August, $7.00, September, $6.00, and in large quantities. Parties requiring brick late or early in the season will find it to their advantage to examine what they are buying, before placing their orders.

PUBLIC MEETING.

Mayor McCauley presided, and stated that the object of the meeting was for the ratepayers to express their grievances if they were dissatisfied with the actions of the old council. He viewed several transactions of the council during the past year, and when questioned about the ditch near the curling rink, he stated the object of the same, but did not know nor could not find out who gave the orders, but thought it was all right for him to sign the cheques for same. The bridge across the Rat creek was discussed to some length, when he said that it was built and that he thought it was a good bridge, so he signed the cheques providing the work was stopped on the ditch.

Jas. Goodridge was the next speaker, and said he did the very best he could and admitted that the council may have made mistakes, but no matter who that council was they would make more.

J. A. McDougall was then called and explained about the trip of the delegates to Ottawa and what encouragement they got when they were in Ottawa. Mr. McDougall then viewed the council and their actions of the past year, while praising some he thought they did good many foolish things. Mr. McDougall said, if elected, he would do all in his power to secure a traffic bridge across the Saskatchewan, if the town had to pay a-half or more. He would try to have the best system of waterworks that could be had, and what was a benefit to the town would be his first and last demand, if elected.

C. Gallagher was called upon and said he was not a public speaker, but ask the vote and influence of the ratepayers, and, if elected, would do the very best he could for the town.

K. A. McLeod was called upon and said that he was not a public speaker, but that he was an old timer, his all was here, he came to stay, and that he was going to stay. His intentions were favorable to Mr. McDougall's in regard to the bridge, and, if elected, would serve to the very best interests of the town.

Geo. P. Sanderson was called upon and said that he had been a kicker against the old council and that he was there to face anything he had said behind the boards. He condemned the council for the way in which they made the ditch, and that the water would not run up hill. He would guarantee that if a ditch was made 18 inches deep that there would be no surplus water on the low ground in which the present ditch was now made. He would, if elected, practice a little economy, not by salt-ing every dollar in the treasury, but by careful handling for anything that would be a benefit to the town. He agreed with Mr. McDougall in regard to the building of the bridge, but would not go in for giving any bonus to a railway and and traffic bridge combined. He thought if the C. P. R. wanted to come into the town they were capable of so doing without the aid of the funds of the town. Some remarks made by Mr. Sanderson brought the mayor to his feet in defence of the old council, about the ditch between Namayo and Kinistino avenues, also the bridge on Kinistino avenue across Rat Creek in which no one seems to know anything why the work should have been done or who gave the orders for the same; but the town paid for it all the same.

Several members of the old council were called upon, but declined to speak.

The meeting then adjourned.
